Dreams of organizational frames that covers a clear mandate...

This include:

- Information about the topic and syllabus for the lecture
- Dialog about what the students can learn from my experience
- Information about the fee, or coverage of expenses
- Routines for evaluation and follow-up talks

My reflection after 3 years in the project:

- What is needed for the Universities to recognize Experiential knowledge? How do we get there?
- The use of Experiential knowledge still depends on eager teachers – and that's why we need organizational frames that support and demand experiential knowledge

Thank you!
